Dear Parents and Carers

The learners had a fantastic time meeting the therapy ponies this week. It was so lovely to see all the smiles, and the interaction was inspiring to see. Thank you Family Nest CIC and we look forward to seeing you again at the further two therapy pony sessions that we have booked. Next week we have a dress in pink theme for a breast cancer charity. I can't wait to see the costumes that everyone is planning for the day and we can't think of a better cause to support. Well done to our classes overleaf. There are lots of exciting and fun learning going on within school. Keep checking our website and newsletters. We will share all our events and update you on what we have achieved on our class pages and news section. Here's a link to our website. Doubletrees School - Home

Our learners had a fantastic equine therapy visit this week from Family Nest CIC. Our learners got to groom, feed and interact with the two Shetland ponies. Therapy ponies are widely known to have a calming, sensory and therapeutic effect on children. Each pony is carefully selected for its temperament and they provide fun and cuddles to those who would not usually be able to interact with horses. We will be having another two visits this term. Please look out for the dates on our Doubletrees website, and family nest's website for more information about their charity.
