Supplementary website context for Doubletrees School

The national swimming measures do not fully reflect the personalised progress made by many pupils at Doubletrees School because pupils have complex learning, physical, sensory and/or medical needs. All seven pupils in the 2025 to 2026 Year 6 cohort accessed regular, personalised sessions in the school's on-site pool.

Physical development: Supported movement, postural development, joint mobilisation, muscle tone management and increased physical activity in a safe warm-water environment.

Sensory regulation: Calm and controlled sensory input, opportunities for self-regulation, and increased engagement and readiness to learn.

Water safety and confidence: Positive engagement in water, simple water-safety routines, safe entry and exit, and awareness of adult instructions, signals and safety boundaries.

Independence and personal care: Changing and dressing, shower routines, organising belongings, and following visual sequences or communication cues.

Interpretation: The reported 0% figures relate specifically to the three national curriculum benchmarks. They do not mean that pupils made no progress. The school reports meaningful personalised progress in physical development, sensory regulation, water confidence, safety awareness, independence and self-care.
