

WALT: explore the properties of different materials

WILF's:

I can explore 2 contrasting materials

I can name some materials

I can find objects in my house made of different materials

Use the symbols on the following pages to explore materials within your house. Depending on the needs of your learner, you could make this a sensory experience, allowing them to feel a range of materials on their arms and legs.

Alternatively, you could go on a hunt around your house to look for different materials or simply find some objects and try to work out what they're made of.

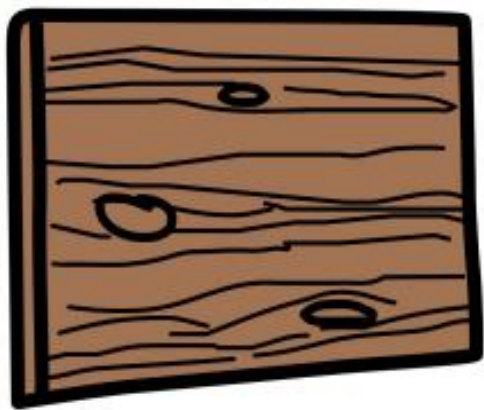

You could even start exploring the properties of materials, by investigating whether they can be bent, squished or stretched.
